

The special arrangements for discharging duties applicable to vulnerable groups are abolished

In the context of the ongoing evaluation of the epidemiological data, the Council of Ministers at its meeting today decided to abolish the special arrangements for discharging duties applicable to vulnerable groups, which come under Group A and Group B.

By extension, those individuals who worked from home on account of the circumstances created by the coronavirus, should make the necessary arrangements and planning for return to their work as of 12 June 2020 at midnight, whereupon the decision of the Council of Ministers will come into effect.
