

Announcement by UNFICYP on measures to prevent potential spread of coronavirus in Cyprus

The UN Mission in Cyprus (UNFICYP) has stepped up measures to protect peacekeepers, ensuring the continuity of UN operations and preventing the potential spread of COVID-19 in the country.

UNFICYP is making every effort to guarantee that necessary humanitarian deliveries continue to affected people living in the north.

All new peacekeepers will undergo a 14-day period of isolation before starting their duties with the mission and civilian staff have been instructed to telecommute wherever possible.
