

Guidelines for persons who were tested negative in an antigen rapid test

Negative result means that:

The Rapid Antigen test for Covid19 that you took did not detect any proteins of the virus.

Should you have or present in the near future any symptoms that are compatible with Covid19 infection should have and contact your GP (personal doctor) so as to arrange for you to have a PCR test for Covid 19

Which are the common symptoms related to Corona Virus infection?

- Fever (temperature $>37.5^{\circ}\text{C}$)
- Cough
- Shortness of breath
- Sudden onset of lack of smelling or tasting
- Weakness
- Headache
- Sore throat
- Nasal congestion/runny nose

Ministry of Health
14 December 2020